

Privacy Policy

Effective date: October 21, 2026

This Privacy Policy explains how LaRissa Rogers (“we,” “us,” or “our”) collects, uses, and shares information when you visit subterraneanconvergence.org (the “Site”). By using the Site, you agree to the practices described here.

1. Information We Collect

Information collected automatically. When you visit the Site, we may automatically collect certain technical information, including your IP address, browser type, device type, operating system, pages viewed, referring website, and the date and time of your visit.

Cookies and similar technologies. We use cookies and similar tools to keep the Site working, remember your preferences, and understand how the Site is used. You can control cookies through your browser settings, though disabling them may affect how the Site functions.

2. How We Use Your Information

We use the information we collect to:

- Operate, maintain, and improve the Site
- Analyze usage trends and Site performance
- Detect, prevent, and address fraud, security issues, or technical problems
- Comply with legal obligations

3. How We Share Your Information

We do not sell your personal information. We may share information with:

- Service providers who help us run the Site (for example, hosting and analytics), and who are only permitted to use the information to provide services to us
- Legal and safety recipients when required by law, legal process, or to protect the rights, property, or safety of us, our users, or others

4. Third-Party Services and Links

The Site may use third-party tools (such as analytics) and may contain links to other websites. These third parties have their own privacy policies, and we are not responsible for their practices. We encourage you to review their policies.

5. Data Retention

We keep personal information only as long as needed to fulfill the purposes described in this policy, unless a longer retention period is required or permitted by law.

6. Data Security

We use reasonable administrative, technical, and physical safeguards to protect your information. However, no method of transmission or storage is completely secure, and we cannot guarantee absolute security.

7. Your Choices and Rights

Depending on where you live, you may have the right to:

- Access the personal information we hold about you
- Request correction or deletion of your information
- Object to or restrict certain processing
- Request a copy of your information in a portable format

To exercise any of these rights, contact us at the address below. We may need to verify your identity before responding.

California residents: Under the California Consumer Privacy Act as amended by the California Privacy Rights Act (CCPA/CPRA), you may have the right to know what personal information we collect, use, and disclose; to request that we delete or correct it; to opt out of the sale or sharing of your personal information; to limit the use of sensitive personal information; and to not be treated differently for exercising these rights. We do not sell personal information[, and we do not share it for cross-context behavioral advertising]. To make a request, contact us using the details below. We will verify your identity and respond within the time the law allows, and you may use an authorized agent to submit a request for you.

California “Shine the Light” law: Under California Civil Code Section 1798.83, if we disclose personal information to third parties for their own direct marketing purposes, California residents may request, once per year, the categories of information disclosed and the names of the third parties that received it. To make a request, contact us using the details below.

Other U.S. states: Residents of other states with comprehensive privacy laws (such as Colorado, Connecticut, and Virginia) may have similar rights to access, correct, and delete their personal data, and to opt out of targeted advertising or the sale of personal data. Contact us to make a request.

European Economic Area, UK, and Switzerland residents: Where applicable, our legal bases for processing include your consent, performance of a contract, our legitimate interests, and compliance with legal obligations. You may also have the right to lodge a complaint with your local data protection authority.

Do Not Track signals: Some browsers offer a “Do Not Track” setting. The Site does not currently respond to Do Not Track signals. We do not allow third parties to collect personally identifiable information about your online activities over time and across different websites when you use the Site.

Marketing emails: Our marketing emails follow the U.S. CAN-SPAM Act. They identify us as the sender, include our mailing address, and contain an unsubscribe link, and we honor opt-out requests within 10 business days.

8. Children’s Privacy

In line with the U.S. Children’s Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA), the Site is not directed to children under 13, and we do not knowingly collect personal information from them. If you believe a child has provided us with personal information, please contact us and we will delete it.
